A PROFESSIONAL CAREER, FOCUSED ON SUCCESS

“Over a decade ago I started transporting patients to all areas of the globe. I began my career as a professional firefighter/paramedic in the late 90’s. Shortly after I began my career, I had the overwhelming desire to fly as a paramedic. I have worked as a paramedic for several fixed wing air ambulance companies over the years and in 2003 I made a transition from fixed wing air ambulance to rotor wing. I currently hold a position as a flight paramedic on a rotor wing critical care air ambulance and am a lieutenant/paramedic in the fire service.”

PROVIDING PROFESSIONAL AIR MEDICAL TRANSPORTATION

“In 2005 I began the appropriate measures necessary to start my own air medical transportation business and in 2007 Air Medical Network, Inc. was established. I have the skills, knowledge and experience required to provide a worry free transfer. Every escort mission is focused on quality patient care, superior service and being cost effective. I know first hand what is medically required during flight and logistically required on the ground for a successful medical escort transfer. Patients and clients are the number one priority of Air Medical Network, Inc.”

PHILOSOPHY OF CARE

“It has always made me very satisfied to provide patients and families across the world a way to get the medical care necessary to maintain a good quality of life. I believe in treating each patient as I would treat a member of my own family and have not ever waivered from that in my professional career. I will always treat my patients with the respect and compassion they deserve.”
